Dual Citizenship Guidelines

Dual Citizenship applications are developed by each individual country and requirements will vary for each country. Many countries require certified copies of vital events in order to verify an applicant's claim of lineage. Access to certified copies of Vital Records in New York State is restricted by Public Health Law Section 4174, Section 4139 and Domestic Relations Law Section 20.

New York City records must be requested from New York City not from the State of New York:

Parent, Grandparent or Great Grandparent's Dissolution of Marriage Certificate:

Please note:

There are two (2) types of divorce records.

First, there is the divorce decree. This is the document prepared by the court, setting forth the terms and conditions of the divorce. It is signed by the judge and filed with the County Clerk of the County where the decree was issued. This is usually the County where the plaintiff resided. For information about obtaining a copy of a divorce decree, contact the appropriate County Clerk. Please note that if the divorce was granted before January 1, 1963, the divorce decree is the only type of document available. If this is the type of record you need, you will have to obtain it from the appropriate County Clerk, it is not available from the NYS Department of Health.

Second, there is a Certificate of Dissolution of Marriage filed with the New York State Department of Health for divorces granted on or after January 1, 1963. This certificate contains basic information about the husband and wife, and the date and place the marriage ended. This is the type of record which is available from the New York State Department of Health.

 - b. The husband or wife may request his or her own divorce certificate and include a signed and notarized letter stating that he or she gives the department permission to send the document to applicant for dual citizenship. The requestor must include a copy of his or her identification.
 - c. If the applicant has power of attorney (POA) for the husband or wife, the applicant may request the record. The POA must be signed by the bride or the groom listed on the Certificate of Dissolution of Marriage. The language stated in the POA must be sufficient to allow the person given POA to obtain the record. Applicant must include the power of attorney, a copy of the applicant's identification and a completed application.
